

Life Based on the Stages in Your Life

Our life moves in stages—infancy, childhood, adolescence, adulthood, and our senior years. Life becomes fulfilling when we live through them with our feet firmly on the ground and with a kokoro that properly reflects the various stages of life. Kami compares these life stages to the four seasons.

	Age	The Way to Live Through Each Life Stage
Birth	Spring ↓ 0-15 years	Develop within the love and care of your parents.
	↓ 15-30 years	Develop your life foundations with a honest, open-minded kokoro .
	Summer ↓ 30-60 years	Put your abilities to use in society with a sincere kokoro .
	Fall ↓ 60+ years	Live with the kokoro to watch over the next generation.
Death	Winter ↓
