

Shinji

All the teachings are principles.

Be aware they are the wisdom that brings out the movement of a kokoro guided by the unmei.

The more you perceive the principles from the teachings and make the best of them in your life, the human kokoro anchors and the will to live and give back deepens.

You will feel deeply the love of family members, and the movement of the kokoro to go against the path is suppressed.

This is the condition of the person who is seen as having high moral character in the kokoro of human beings.

To the Shinja

Strive to be the person (existence) who is grateful for the strength of their unmei and guides society on the correct path.

This belief strongly draws out your will to give back to society and deepens your encounters with others.

Live to give back without being affected by the attitude and the words of others, the environment and the circumstances.

Your work gains meaning and purpose the stronger is your will (conviction) to give back to society through the strengths of your unmei.

With the support, cooperation, and esteem of many people, you will be increasingly successful.

Understand that the volition to work does not begin with your hopes and desires, but with the kokoro (conviction) to give back with the strengths of your unmei.