

September 15, 2023 Shinja Kokoro no Moto Benkyōkai about Work

Shinji

The kokoro of the human being, who has been raised with unconditional love, is anchored and they do not go against the path.

But there are many families where the kokoro does not come together; hence, there are many (people) whose emotions waver.

The kokoro to give back does not grow; this is the reason why they do not have hopes and dreams in their life.

To the Shinja

Begin by learning the teachings and have the strong kokoro to live by the principles.

Read deeply the Shinji; and kigan that you are able to live by the principles that have moved your kokoro.

When this is done daily, you will naturally begin to acquire the kokoro to give back as you interact correctly with others.

This is when love that is the truth begins to grow in a person's kokoro.

Love that is the truth draws forth the love of others and fosters the kokoro to interact with one another.

Love that is the truth deepens mutual trust and fosters the desire to live up to expectations.

Encounters with others increasingly grows, deepens, and raises the outcome of the work.

Work—is to acquire the emotion to give back and experience the satisfaction of taking part in society with your unmei's strengths.

The more this is experienced, human beings are freed from their biases and experience meaning and purpose.
